

Affordable Document Management for Dealerships.

FileBound works the way you work and provides value in all of your operational areas:

- Sales
- Service
- Parts
- Finance
- Human Resources

FileBound allows you to successfully manage document flow and control operational costs. We provide the document access, security and control you need to succeed in today's environment.

FileBound[®]

FileBound®

Dealership processes are paper intensive and require the right solution to streamline those processes and control operational costs. We provide solutions that drive down the cost and hassle of managing paper documents while meeting the needs of your Accounting, Sales, Service, Parts and Human Resources departments.

The FileBound solution allows you to go paperless by scanning all of your paper documents in a format that is easy to store, retrieve and manage. In addition to scanned images, any related documents can be electronically filed within the system, such as Microsoft Word® documents or email messages. FileBound also delivers the document security you need to meet today's compliance requirements. Security rights, which limits access to authorized users, can be applied to specific documents or portions of documents that contain sensitive information.

FileBound allows you to leverage your technology investments by providing the tools to integrate with your existing systems and data. Reports can be captured from your core system and processed into the FileBound system as documents. Also, the data contained within the reports can be used to index documents by customer, VIN number, model and year, as well as any other related data found within the report. We add value and reduce operational costs by bringing order to all of the information that exists within the dealership.

FileBound is designed to meet the needs of your dealership. Our solution can be delivered as an outsourced On-Demand service, installed locally on your own infrastructure, or deployed in the form of a plug-and-play network appliance. FileBound is affordable and flexible, and provides the instant document management you need to succeed .

Your back office operations may not be where you make your profits, but it is certainly where you can lose them. The more efficient any dealership is at operating its business, the greater the percentage of revenues that contribute to the bottom line. FileBound provides the automation you need to be efficient.

FileBound Delivery Options

FileBound® On-Site™

In-house Document Management
Premise based solution licensed for unlimited or concurrent users

FileBound® On-Demand™

Hosted Document Management
Complete Document Management without the up-front capital requirements

FileBound® Express™

Instant Document Management
Easy to implement plug-and-play network appliance

Locate | Process | Protect